

Our Lawyers

Cameron B.P. Elder
Associate

Direct: 604.895.2815
celder@harpergrey.com

Cameron Elder is an associate practicing in the areas of condo litigation, commercial litigation and health law. He was a summer student at Harper Grey in 2004 and articulated with us in 2006.

After graduating from law school, Cam clerked with the British Columbia Supreme Court.

Representative Client Work

- Helping businesses with employment related matters
- Helping individuals and companies with business disputes
- Helping insurers with coverage disputes
- Enforcing judgments obtained on behalf of clients both in BC and abroad
- Assisting architects and engineers with construction related disputes
- Defending physicians against allegations of medical malpractice

Professional & Civic Activities

- Member, Canadian Bar Association, British Columbia Branch - Real Property subsection
- Member, Vancouver Board of Trade
- Member, Vancouver Bar Association

Recent News

Real estate litigation update: Coastal Village project, Squamish, BC

Condo Pre-Sale Litigation

Condo Pre-Sale Litigation: Questions & Answers

Attisha and Elder Featured in the Lawyers Weekly

Harper Grey LLP welcomes a new associate

Bar & Court Admissions

Called to the Bar of British Columbia, 2007

Education

Dalhousie University, BSc (2000)

University of Victoria, LLB (2005)

Cameron B.P. Elder cont.

Publications

- ⚡ Environmental Law Alert May 2010, May 2010
- ⚡ The Coastal Village Project, Squamish, BC, October 23, 2009

Background

Cameron grew up in Halifax, Nova Scotia and obtained an undergraduate degree in Biology and International Development from Dalhousie. He moved west in 2000 as has remained here since. Cameron enjoys skiing, sailing, volleyball, tennis, squash and running. He is also an avid traveller and outdoorsman.

Practice Areas

Commercial Litigation
Condo Pre-Sale Disputes
Employment Law
Engineering & Construction Law
Environmental Law
Health Law
Insurance Law

Industry Expertise

Health Care
Natural Resources