EXPERTISE

Health Law
Professional Regulation

William represents clients in both civil and regulatory matters. He has acted as counsel for most types of professionals, including doctors, dentists, psychologists, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, engineers and nurses.

Professionals rely on William to provide practical advice on regulatory and disciplinary matters. His experience in and intimate knowledge of how regulations such as the Health Professions Act are typically applied, and how professionals often structure their practice allow for very reliable advocacy.

When not helping clients, William serves as the firm's resident expert on where to find the best pizza in town.

EXPERIENCE

PROFESSIONAL REGULATION

- Representing professionals in disciplinary matters including improper administration (billing, record keeping), communication with patients/clients, negligence, and allegations of sexual misconduct
- Advocating for professionals applying for a licence to practice in British Columbia
- Representing clients at tribunals, hearings and other meetings at regulatory organizations such as the College of Physicians and Surgeons of BC, the College of Dental Surgeons of BC, and the College of Physiotherapists of BC
- Advising clients on matters involving breach of confidentiality and the Freedom of Information and Privacy Act
- Counsel on an appeal involving a Constitutional and Charter challenge to a finding of professional misconduct and conduct unbecoming
- Providing policy advice to professional organizations, including advice regarding professional liability insurance
- Counsel to the Royal Commission on Workers Compensation in British Columbia

LITIGATION

- William often works with other Harper Grey counsel on matters intersecting professional regulation, civil litigation and/or criminal law
- Counsel in a number of Supreme Court of Canada cases such as London Drugs v. Kuhne & Nagel (vicarious liability), A.M. v. Ryan (evidence, disclosure, counselling records), and Hollis v. Birch (establishing a manufacturer's duty to warn of potentially hazardous medical products)
